Prince Albert: A Victorian Hero Revealed

SUN Jun 14 | 8p

History remembers Prince Albert as Queen Victoria's German husband whose untimely death inspired decades of mourning. A wealth of new material, however, suggests he played a profound role as a forward-thinking reformer whose innovative ideas transformed Great Britain's fortunes. With access to more than 20,000 of Albert's private papers and photos, Professor Saul David examines Albert's lasting influence on British culture, government policy and international relations.

Prehistoric Road Trip

SERIES PREMIERE

WED Jun 17 | 10p

Prehistoric Road Trip features South Dakota native (and YouTube sensation) Emily Graslie of the Field Museum in Chicago. Her new three-part natural history series combines science, culture and history and brings viewers along on the adventure of a lifetime: driving the open roads of the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming and Nebraska to discover what the landscape looked like millions, even billions, of years ago. Filmed in stunning 4K resolution, using state-of-the-art drone technology and featuring dynamic illustration graphics, the series will bring this now-extinct world to life.

INDEPENDENT LENS

Recorder: The Marion Stokes Project

SAT Jun 20 | 11:30p

Long before the era of “fake news,” Marion Stokes believed she could protect the truth by keeping an archive of everything that was said and shown on TV – so she recorded it 24 hours a day for 30 years, from 1975 until her death in 2012. Now her 70,000 VHS tapes are being digitized for future generations, giving us all a glimpse into how television shaped, and continues to shape, our world.

MON and TUE
Jun 29-30 | 9p

This two-part miniseries follows newly elected women in the U.S. Congress and asks whether democracy itself can be preserved – and made stronger – by those most marginalized. Filmed from 2018 through 2019, the series tells the story of five candidates as they interact with voters, conduct embattled campaigns, and balance work and personal lives.
