American Experience Riveted: The History of Jeans BH

MON Feb 7 | 9p

At any given moment, half the people on the planet are wearing them. They have become a staple of clothing the world over, worn by everyone from presidents and supermodels to farmers and artists. More than just an item of apparel, America's tangled past is woven into the indigo blue fabric. From their roots in slavery to its connection to the Wild West, youth culture, the civil rights movement, rock 'n' roll, hippies, high fashion and hip-hop, jeans are the canvas on which the history of American ideology and politics are large.

American Masters Marian Anderson: The Whole World in Her Hands BH

TUE Feb 8 | 9p

With unprecedented access to the Marian Anderson Estate, this documentary draws on rare archival footage and audio recordings and Anderson's extensive personal correspondence to family and friends, including Martin Luther King, Jr., W.E.B. Du Bois, Duke Ellington, Shirley Chisholm and Langston Hughes, to reveal the woman behind the icon.

Independent Lens Owned: A Tale of Two Americas BH

SAT Feb 12 | 10:30p

Through the stories of a retired New York City cop, an eccentric Orange County realtor and an aspiring real estate developer in Baltimore, this documentary explores the promise of U.S. housing policies. "Owned: A Tale of Two Americas" weaves together the history of mid-century housing policy in America.

Fannie Lou Hamer's America: America Reframed Special BH

TUE Feb 22 | 9p

"I'm sick and tired of being sick and tired." Most Americans have heard that famous line, but few know who said it. Mississippi sharecropper-turned-civil-rights-activist Fannie Lou Hamer, known in the 1960s and '70s for her powerful speeches, soul-stirring songs and impassioned pleas for equal rights, has largely been forgotten. But in this film, the person who Malcom X called "the country's number one freedom fighting woman" tells her own story — in her own words — by means of archival audio footage.

New Episodes Coming This Month!
WEDNESDAYS | 8p

Penguins: Meet the Family | Feb 9

Kick off a month of fresh Nature episodes with this moving special about our favorite unflappable animals. Follow all 18 species of penguins as they face perils for survival from rock climbing to extreme temperatures. Discover how these wonderful creatures form lifelong bonds and make great parents in this heartwarming exploration of family dynamics, astonishing adaptations and remarkable behaviors.

The Ocean's Greatest Feast | Feb 16

It all starts with a single, tiny sardine swimming east. But billions of others join him, led by the sharks, along with dolphins, whales, orcas and seals. Cutting-edge, gyro-stabilized drones; boat mounted, high-speed, shot-over gyros; and on-board penguin and shark cams complement the best underwater and surface camera crew. Never before has such tech been deployed on a marine event of this magnitude.

American Horses | Feb 23

Grounded in historical moments, charismatic people and singular places, "American Horses" takes us on a journey tracing the emergence of these remarkable horses and introducing contemporary horse trainers who are continuing in the long tradition of caring for the horses. Whether galloping down the Pony Express trail, battling for mares in the Rocky Mountains, giving birth to new foals in Vermont or honoring a sacred Native American tradition, the horses in this special are unforgettable.

HUMAN ELEMENTS

THU Feb 17 | 8:50p

The world of science is full of facts and figures, but behind the study are the people. In the end, it becomes a question not of how they do science — but why. Season Two of the Crosscut/KCTS 9 series Human Elements continues to showcase the people behind the scenes of some of the Pacific Northwest's greatest discoveries and explorations. The premiere episode on February 17 tells the story of biologist Steven Clark as he searches for tiny flowers in hard-to-reach places in the hopes of saving rare native plants.

The season continues with episodes investigating microplastics, how otters can save our ecosystems, if humans could live forever, killer whales, toxic shellfish and more. Get to know more about this research in our own Northwest backyard, as well as the scientists bringing these fascinating discoveries to light.

SAT Feb 19 | 10:30p

Set in Silicon Valley, and high schools in Texas, Indianapolis and Philadelphia, this documentary explores the complexities of violence in schools by looking at the strategies employed to prevent it. The film observes the longstanding rituals that take place in American schools: homecoming parades, basketball practice, morning announcements and class. Unfolding alongside these scenes are new traditions like lockdown drills, teacher firearms training, metal detector screenings and school safety trade shows.
