Eurydice SUN Mar 13 | 11a

The ancient Greek myth of Orpheus, who attempts to harness the power of music to rescue his beloved Eurydice from the Underworld, has inspired composers since opera's earliest days.

Brilliant American composer Matthew Aucoin now carries that tradition into the 21st century with a captivating new take on the story — a product of the Met's commissioning program. With a libretto by Sarah Ruhl, adapted from her acclaimed 2003 play, the opera reimagines the familiar tale from Eurydice's point of view. Yannick Nézet-Séguin oversees the momentous Met premiere from the podium, leading Aucoin's evocative music and an immersive new staging by Mary Zimmerman.

Different Drummers of Our Past: A Mossback's Northwest Special

SUN Mar 20 | 6:30p

The 2022 Mossback Special revisits the iconic and determined people of our history, the folks who did it when it "couldn't be done" — like the Smith family, who built the Smith Tower, and Bertha Knight, our first female mayor. The Pacific Northwest has always been a home for pranksters, misfits and people who made their own special mark on history. (This program premieres February 26 at 6:30 p.m.)

The Conductor FRI Mar 25 | 9p

Marin Alsop is a woman of firsts. She was the first woman and the only conductor ever to receive a MacArthur Award. Alsop became the first female to be appointed as music director of a major symphony.

However, her journey to professional success was neither easy nor straightforward, at a time when, according to New York Times reporter Michael Cooper, "it was easier for a female to become a leader of a G5 nation or a Five-Star General than to become a conductor of a major symphony."

Father Brown

SEASON PREMIERE
FRI Mar 25 | 8p

The beautiful English countryside is the setting for more charming mysteries featuring the charismatic clergyman sleuth. The year is 1953, and the sleepy Cotswolds village of Kembleford is stirred by such dastardly deeds as murder at the local holiday camp and at Lady Felicia's illustrious New Year Masked Ball. With a killer in his midst, could this be the last waltz for Father Brown?
