Fire Shut Up in My Bones

FRI Apr 1 | 9p

The second opera from six-time Grammy Award-winning trumpeter and composer Terence Blanchard, Fire Shut Up in My Bones makes history this season as the first opera by a Black composer to be performed by the Met. But beyond this important milestone, the work itself takes audiences on a profound, often painful, musical and dramatic journey. To tell this story, Blanchard conjures a sound world that weaves together jazz and gospel idioms, probing and incisive melodies, and an intricate orchestral palette.

Benjamin Franklin

SERIES PREMIERE

MON Apr 4 | 8p

Ken Burns' two-night, four-hour documentary Benjamin Franklin explores the revolutionary life of one of the 18th Century's most consequential and compelling personalities, whose work and words unlocked the mystery of electricity and helped create the United States. Franklin's 84 years (1706-1790) spanned an epoch of momentous change in science, technology, literature, politics and government — fields he himself advanced through a lifelong commitment to societal and self-improvement. Over the course of seven impossibly prolific decades, Franklin ascended professional and social ladders, rising from a printer's apprentice in provincial Boston to the most popular man in Paris, France.

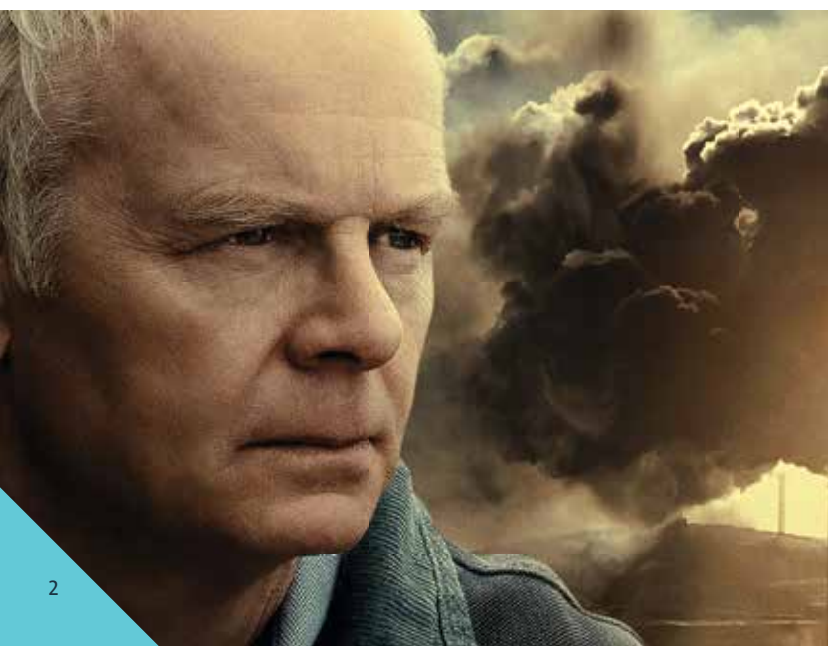

The Trick

FRI Apr 22 | 10p

This conspiracy thriller and cautionary tale airing on Earth Day tells the story of the 2009 Climategate scandal, when the media storm undermined confidence in the science of climate change. Professor Phil Jones (Jason Watkins) and his team at the University of East Anglia find themselves in the middle of a major investigation with their 30 years of research work being questioned in the first "fake news" attack.

Big Sonia

TUE Apr 26 | 1p

In the last store in a defunct shopping mall, 91-year-old Sonia Warshawski — great-grandmother, businesswoman and Holocaust survivor — runs the tailor shop she’s owned for more than thirty years. But when she’s served an eviction notice, the specter of retirement prompts Sonia to revisit her harrowing past as a refugee and witness to genocide. A poignant story of generational trauma and healing, Big Sonia also offers a laugh out loud funny portrait of the power of love to triumph over bigotry, and the power of truth-telling to heal us all.

We Remember: Songs of Survivors

TUE Apr 26 | 8p

NOVA

Determined: Fighting Alzheimer's

WED Apr 6 | 9p

Of the top 10 leading causes of death, Alzheimer's disease is the only one without a cure. This episode is an intimate portrait of three women with mothers afflicted by the disease. Each woman is determined to contribute to a cure by enrolling in groundbreaking trials at the University of Wisconsin, which include testing whether early interventions such as improved exercise and diet can help lower the risk.

This program also captures the many obstacles faced by the Wisconsin researchers: for example, when their efforts to engage underserved communities encounter the deep-rooted mistrust of medical trials stemming from the unethical history of experiments on people of color. NOVA's intimate access to all their stories reveals that Alzheimer's is a disease battled on many fronts: in a laboratory, in a home, in a marriage, in a mind and in one's hopes and fears about the future.

Why I invest in public media:

"There are a lot of inequities that currently exist in our society and institutions today. We need to realize why these inequities exist, and public media helps with that. I feel it is my job to support organizations like KCTS 9 and Crosscut that provide this kind of quality information and programming to our community. We need to step up and take care of each other."

Aware: Glimpses of Consciousness
 SAT Apr 30 | 11p

What is consciousness? How do mystical experiences factor in? And, the eternal question, what happens to us when we die? What begins as a science film emerges far beyond the explicable. “Aware” follows six brilliant researchers approaching consciousness from different perspectives.

REVEAL YOUR WORLD

NATURE

New episodes Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m.

Hippo King | Apr 6

A giant hippo bull – a king amongst the largest concentration of hippos on this planet – has an incredible story to tell. A story normally hidden from human eyes and almost always misunderstood – because his secret life happens beneath the water and under cover of darkness. Follow the life of the “Hippo King” as we reveal the true character of one of the planet’s largest land mammals.

American Arctic | Apr 13

Vast, wild and untouched, the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge is where some of the world’s greatest wildlife spectacles unfold. Situated in the northeastern corner of Alaska, this refuge is the wildest place left in North America. For five years, photographer and cinematographer Florian Schulz has lived here, tracking the porcupine caribou herd on the longest land animal migration on Earth and witnessing extraordinary wildlife moments along the way.

Portugal: Wild Land on the Edge | Apr 27

Portugal was once a great power that linked the Old and New worlds — and this history is reflected in the country’s landscapes and wildlife. Wild horses small enough to fit on the cramped ocean-going ships were tamed in the northern mountains and exported to gold-greedy conquistadors. Now Portugal’s seahorses are threatened by modern global trade: illegal fishing to supply Far Eastern exotic medicines. The eucalyptus trees once imported from Australia to revive the timber industry now cause devastating forest fires. Air, Earth, Fire and Water — in this country the ancient elements still rule.
